PRICE TWO CENTS

WILL ASK COURT TO ADVANCE CASE

Petitioners for Three Hard Surface Highways in This Township Seek an Immediatly Decision.

WANT WORK DONE THIS SUMMER

Appeal Taken to Supreme Court by Remonstrators After Favorable Action by Commissioners.

Senator E. P. Elsner, attorney for the petitioners seeking the permanent improvements of three roads in Jackson township, will go before the Indiana supreme court the first of next week and ask that the case be advanced for an immediate hearing. Affidavits have already been filed with the supreme court stating that the petitioners desire an early decision in the case so that if they receive a favorable opinion the roads can be constructed this summer and fall. Whether or not the case will be advanced on the supreme court docket is optional with the high court, depending upon the question of emergency.

The three roads included in the appeal from the circuit court are the High street road, from the city limits to the Roeger farm, the South Walnut street road to the White School House and the West Second street road to Hangsmen's crossing. The petitions for the improvement of the roads were filed with the commissioners more than a year ago and were favorably acted upon. Before the commissioners approved the petitions, however, and ordered the roads built a remonstrance was filed.

Following the action of the commissioners, the remonstrators prosecuted an appeal to the supreme court, questioning the right of the commissioners to order the improvement of a highway at the expense of the township which had once been improved with gravel at the expense of the township and turned over to the county for maintenance. The petitioners claimed that the commissioners had the arbitrary right to order such improvement. The remonstrators insisted that only after an election can such improvements be ordered by the commissioners.

The decision of the supreme court has been awaited with interest as it is understood that upon it will depend

FARMERS' INSURANCE CO. HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Reports and Statements Filed by Officers at Session Held in Brownstown Today.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Jackson County Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company was held at Brownstown today and was attended by practically all the officers. The reports were filed and verified by the auditing committee. The statements showed the association to be in splendid condition. Losses have been paid promptly and much new business has been written.

John Q. Foster, of Vernon township, who has been president of the company for a number of years, presided at the meetings. Others in attendance were: Oscar E. Carter, Jackson township, member of auditing committee; Holmes Robertson, Hamilton township, secretary; G. C. Borchering, Jackson township, treasurer; Charles Welliver, Redding township, a director.

DUDLEYTOWN BAND.

New Uniforms Have Been Purchased for the Musicians.

The Dudleytown cornet band has been organized and will give a series of concerts in the near future. This organization has purchased new uniforms and they have arrived at Adolph Steinwedel's store and will be sent to the band members at once. The uniforms are of blue, and striped with yellow and the caps and sleeves of the coats are trimmed in gilt cord. With this new outfit the cornet band should make a fine appearance.

SPRING BUSINESS HAS MADE SPLENDID START

Local Dealers Do Not Wait for the Arrival of Easter, But Show Attractive Spring Lines.

Easter is usually the accepted time for the inauguration of spring millinery and seasonable suits, but this year as it comes so late in the spring—Sunday, April 23—local people are not waiting for its arrival to don their new attire. Seymour dealers looking ahead, foresaw that the demand for spring goods would be made before the arrival of the Easter season and ordered shipment of their new stocks accordingly. As a result the local shops are filled with the newest ideas and are attractive places for those who admire fashion's changes.

Spring business has started very satisfactorily, according to the local dealers. Despite the periods of unseasonable weather during the early spring there have been numerous calls for spring goods. Seymour merchants believe the early business indicates an unprecedented spring business later and the annual rush is expected the first part of this month.

With the coming of the warm days the winter goods have lost their place of prominence in the display windows which are attractively arranged with suits, hats and other apparel which will be worn during the present season. The winter stock which remained is being removed from the shelves and the new goods are placed where they can be readily exhibited. The decorations in the display windows have taken on the springlike appearance and in several places early spring flowers and greenery are used in abundance.

Despite the warnings which were sent out several months ago that colors would not predominate in spring fashions, there seems to be no lack of shades in the lines which are on display here. In some lines the colored goods are slightly higher in price than last year, owing to the scarcity of dye stuffs and the difficulty of manufacturers in getting all colors. White, of course, is always popular during the spring and summer months and according to local dealers will not surrender its place of popularity this year. Each summer there is always a big demand for white goods and it is promised that it will predominate to a greater extent than ever before.

The clothing houses as well as the dry goods stores, are furnishing attractive styles for men this year. The suits are patterned along rather conventional lines, the dealers say, and the weaves are such as to please the most particular customer. Stores which handle both men's and women's attire are showing the latest in every line and are to be complimented upon the large, attractive stocks which they have succeeded in securing for the local trade.

JOINT TOWNSHIP MEETING FOR TEACHERS HELD HERE

Redding, Jackson and Washington Teachers Held Last Institute for School Year.

The last of the monthly institutes of the Redding, Jackson and Washington township schools, was held in this city today.

For the last year it has been the policy of these counties to consolidate the instruction school for the teachers. By this method they are able to get the result of the ideas of not only the teachers of the one township but of those of other communities.

The meeting of the teachers today is the last that will be held this year owing to the fact that the county schools will be dismissed the last of this month or the first of next. In the convention today there were no special instructors, the teachers conducting the meeting along the lines as outlined by the books sent out on the subject from the state board of education.

Speeding Notice.

We regret having to announce we are getting complaints about auto speeding. We prefer to believe this is thoughtlessness rather than a deliberate intention of violating the law and thereby endangering the lives of our citizens. We assume all well meaning but thoughtless drivers will heed this warning and respect the law. Others, if any there be, will pay the penalty.

INSTRUCTIONS ARE SENT TO TRUSTEES

State Board of Accounts Informs Township Trustees Concerning Certain Phases of Law.

MUST ADVERTISE FOR BIDS

Advisory Board will Receive Road and School Supplies at Meeting June 6, Letter Says.

Township trustees and other school officials in Jackson county have received from Gilbert H. Hendren, state examiner for the state board of accounts, a letter explaining certain phases of the requirements now in effect concerning the advertisement for bids on school and township supplies by the trustees and advisory boards.

The letter accentuates the fact that copies of every notice of bidders that a trustee prepares, must be sent to the state board of accounts as soon as it is prepared. The letter follows:

"The advisory board in your township is required by law to meet on the first Tuesday in June (June 6), for the purpose of making a road levy.

"You should, during the month of April or May, proceed to give notice that you will receive bids for school and road supplies on that date. If the contemplated expenditures in any one class do not exceed $500, it is sufficient to give notice by posting for three weeks in five of the most public places in the township and also at or near the door of each postoffice therein. If the contemplated expenditures in any one class exceed $500, you should post notices as afore-said and also advertise for bids in two leading newspapers published in the county, representing the two political parties casting the highest number of votes in the county at the last preceding election. You should also send a copy of any notice to bidders to this office (the state board of accounts.)

"This will require only one meeting of the advisory board, and by having the meetings on the same day throughout the state, you may, in a measure, prevent unscrupulous dealers from attending many lettings on different dates. It will also give dealers ample time to fill contracts before supplies are needed in September."

CLEVER PAGEANTS FEATURE CORTLAND CENTENNIAL MEET

School Children Portray Many Events of Historical Significance in Celebration Yesterday.

In the Cortland and Hamilton township schools centennial celebration, held yesterday at Cortland, several interesting and cleverly carried out pageants were given. Especially good were those typifying the early periods of Indiana history, in which the lives of the Indians and the early settlers were portrayed, and the pioneer modes of agriculture and the hardships of early day life in the Hoosier state reproduced. Another clever pageant was the one of the famous Harrison and Tyler "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" campaign. In this pageant the school pupils left the school premises and paraded the Cortland streets in their reproduction of one of the rallies in that historical campaign.

The museum of historical relics proved one of the most interesting features of the day, and was surrounded by a crowd of spectators throughout the entire day. The exhibits included many articles over one hundred years old.

Prof. T. A. Mott, of the Seymour schools, was one of the speakers on the afternoon program. He complimented the Hamilton township schools on their splendid celebration, and explained the plans for the county celebration to be held in the fall.

The Cortland meeting was the first of the centennial celebrations to be held, and it proved to be a complete success, much of the credit for which is due to the efforts of Prof. C. R. Jackson of the Cortland schools. Several other township schools will hold their celebrations during the coming week.

CONVENTION WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY

Preliminary Arrangements Completed for Great Gathering of Republicans Next Week.

DELEGATES TO LEAVE TUESDAY

Fourth District Delegations Will Hold Session in Room 41 at State House Wednesday Night.

With all preliminary arrangements for the Republican state convention in Indianapolis next Wednesday and Thursday completed local delegates and members of the party are anxiously awaiting the first reports which will give some indication of probable outcome of races for nomination for the principal offices for which contests are waged. Of course, the attention of local Republicans is centered upon the campaigns of Judge John M. Lewis for lieutenant-governor and Judge O. H. Montgomery, candidate for supreme judge from the Second judicial district. Local delegates will go to Indianapolis the first of next week prepared to do all they can for the local aspirants and believe they have excellent chances of landing the coveted places.

Most of the delegates will be in Indianapolis before Tuesday night and many Republicans who will attend the convention as visitors will be on the ground before that time. The delegations will begin arriving Monday morning and each train will bring a large number.

The delegates from the Fourth congressional district will meet in room 41 of the state house, first floor, Wednesday night and will elect the following:

CANDY AND CIGARS HAVE FLOATED FREELY ON APRIL 1

Telephones Have Been Worked Overtime and Many Useless Steps Taken Because of "Jokers."

April 1.

That has meant a good deal to many local people today. It has been the cause of many unnecessary stops and useless turns. The man who "can't be fooled" has received a lot of attention today and many old jokes as well as new ones have been practiced.

April Fool candy, filled with pepper, cotton and sawdust, has floated around freely. Cigars have been freely distributed but nearly every one which was so liberally donated contained a spring or some other device which caused the wrapper to "blow up" in a hundred pieces as soon as the fire had reached a certain point. The telephone has been worked overtime by the practical jokers and many persons have been standing on money or have dropped their pocketbooks only to be informed that this is the first day of April when they stooped over to pick up such articles reported lost.

One of the cleverest jokes seen today was in Carter's Drug Store. A penny was securely soldered to the tack with a large head. The tack was then driven in the floor where it would attract attention. Efforts to remove the coin from the floor were of course futile and many laughs have resulted from the sheepish expressions following all such attempts.

DUTCH PARLIAMENT WILL MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION

Situation Over Sinking of the Dutch Liner Tubantia Becomes More Serious Hourly.

By United Press.
London, April 1.—Both houses of the Dutch parliament have been summoned by telegraph to meet in special session Sunday to consider the sinking of the Dutch liner Tubantia, states a Copenhagen dispatch.

The Dutch government has commandeered all railway material, the dispatches say, and the queen has cancelled all military furloughs. The situation is said to have grown more critical following a meeting of the highest authorities of the army and navy who were in session all day yesterday.

Because all direct cables between London and Holland have been put out of commission by a severe storm it is impossible to obtain early verification of the report. All dispatches regarding Dutch affairs have been coming from Copenhagen after having been telegraphed from The Hague. The latest advices from The Hague have assured the foreign office that no German submarine could have sunk the Tubantia.

CAPTURE OF VILLA AGAIN REPORTED

Unconfirmed Rumors Circulated in Chihuahua City that Bandit is Taken by American Troops.

SCATTERED BANDS PURSUED

News of Col. Dodd's Victory Received at Base Camp by Wilding Cheer-ing of Soldiers.

Bulletin.
El Paso, April 1.—Unconfirmed rumors are current in Chihuahua City that the American forces captured Villa in Minaca yesterday.

(H. D. Jacobs, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Field Headquarters American Army near Dublin, Mexico, (Wireless to Columbus, N. M.) April 1.—The pursuit of Villa's scattered forces continued today in the mountains near the scene of the Villista route Wednesday. Brigadier General Pershing has ordered the small bands pursued and exterminated.

News of Col. Dodd's victory was received at the base camp here yesterday with the wildest cheers from officers and soldiers alike.

By United Press.

Washington, April 1.—With Villa's personal command smashed by Col. Dodd's swift cavalry troop, officials here momentarily expect news of his capture and the final breaking up of his command as an effective band.

Divested of his prestige, Villa will find much less support among the Peon inhabitants, if army officials who have served on the border understand the Mexican characteristics.

News that someone of his followers had succumbed to the temptation of the $50,000 reward for his body, dead or alive, would not be surprising now as there is less possibility of a deadly vengeance in case the attempt failed.

Further confirmation of Villa's injury in the battle with Carranzistas at Guerrero was obtained today from General Gutierrez, of Chihuahua City, who said Villa was shot in the knee and carried away on a litter by Indians on his band.

SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS BRANDEIS

Two Republican Members Said to Have Voted Unfavorably to His Appointment on Supreme Bench.

By United Press.
Washington, April 1.—The senate sub-committee which investigated the fitness of L. D. Brandeis for a place in the supreme court today voted to recommend his confirmation. The vote was three to two.

While names were not given it was learned the unfavorable votes were cast by Works and Cummins, Republicans, and that the vote of Cummins was based on views less adverse to Brandeis than those held by Works.

The report will go to the senate judiciary committee Monday. There the Republicans in view of the action of the two dissenting members of the sub-committee are expected to make a fight to keep the recommendation delayed or indefinitely postponed.

TWENTY-EIGHT KILLED IN AIR RAID ON ENGLAND

Arising Off East Coast Zppelins Divided Into Two Squadrons—Seventy-four Bombs Fall.

By United Press.
London, April 1.—Twenty-eight persons were killed and forty-four injured in last night's Zeppelin raid on England, the admiralty announced this afternoon. Arising off the east coast at about 8 p. m. the airships divided into two squadrons, on moving eastward and the other taking a more southerly course in the direction of the Thames. A single Zeppelin directed its route to the north-eastern tier of counties. Seventy-four bombs were dropped, the admiralty announced.

Song of The Army Mewel.
(Chicago News)
(Official pronunciations used. What do the dictionaries know?)

He couldn't tote with the motor lorry,
He couldn't fight with the army truck,
And for a time it seemed, begorrie
The army mewel was out o'luck!

The army mewel
What needs no fuel,
Oh, wan't it cruel?
Was out o'luck!

He couldn't drag the fifteen-inches,
Or fly or manage a submarine,
But he's right there with hits in the pinches—
And he don't need no gasoline!

The army mewel,
He ain't no foo'el,
And as a ru-el

Hates gas-o-line!

When Uncle Sam hits plain or mountain,
Or desert that round the wide world runs,
And there's no water nor petrol fountain,
The mewel he totes the grub and guns!

The army mewel,
The precious jewel
And useful too-el,
He totes the guns!

A Spring Pome.
Hail, Gentle Spring! (Gee, ain't it cold!)
Hail, buttercup and ramblor rose!
I see the swelling buds unfold,
(Doggone that wind, I'm nearly froze.)

(And I have chilblains on my feet!),
And all the world is sun-caressed!
(Hey, Janitor, turn on more heat!)

CASTOR OIL NOW EASY TO TAKE

Doctor Makes New Remedy On Same Principle As Whipped Cream.

The action of cream under the whipping process in making whipped cream encouraged a Cleveland physician to try his hand at making castor oil palatable.

Castor oil though recognized everywhere as the safest and surest laxative, has always been hard for physicians to administer without sickening adults or bribing children.

However, by whipping pure castor oil into a jelly and adding a delicious flavor of orange and lemon this doctor finally succeeded in overcoming all these objections.

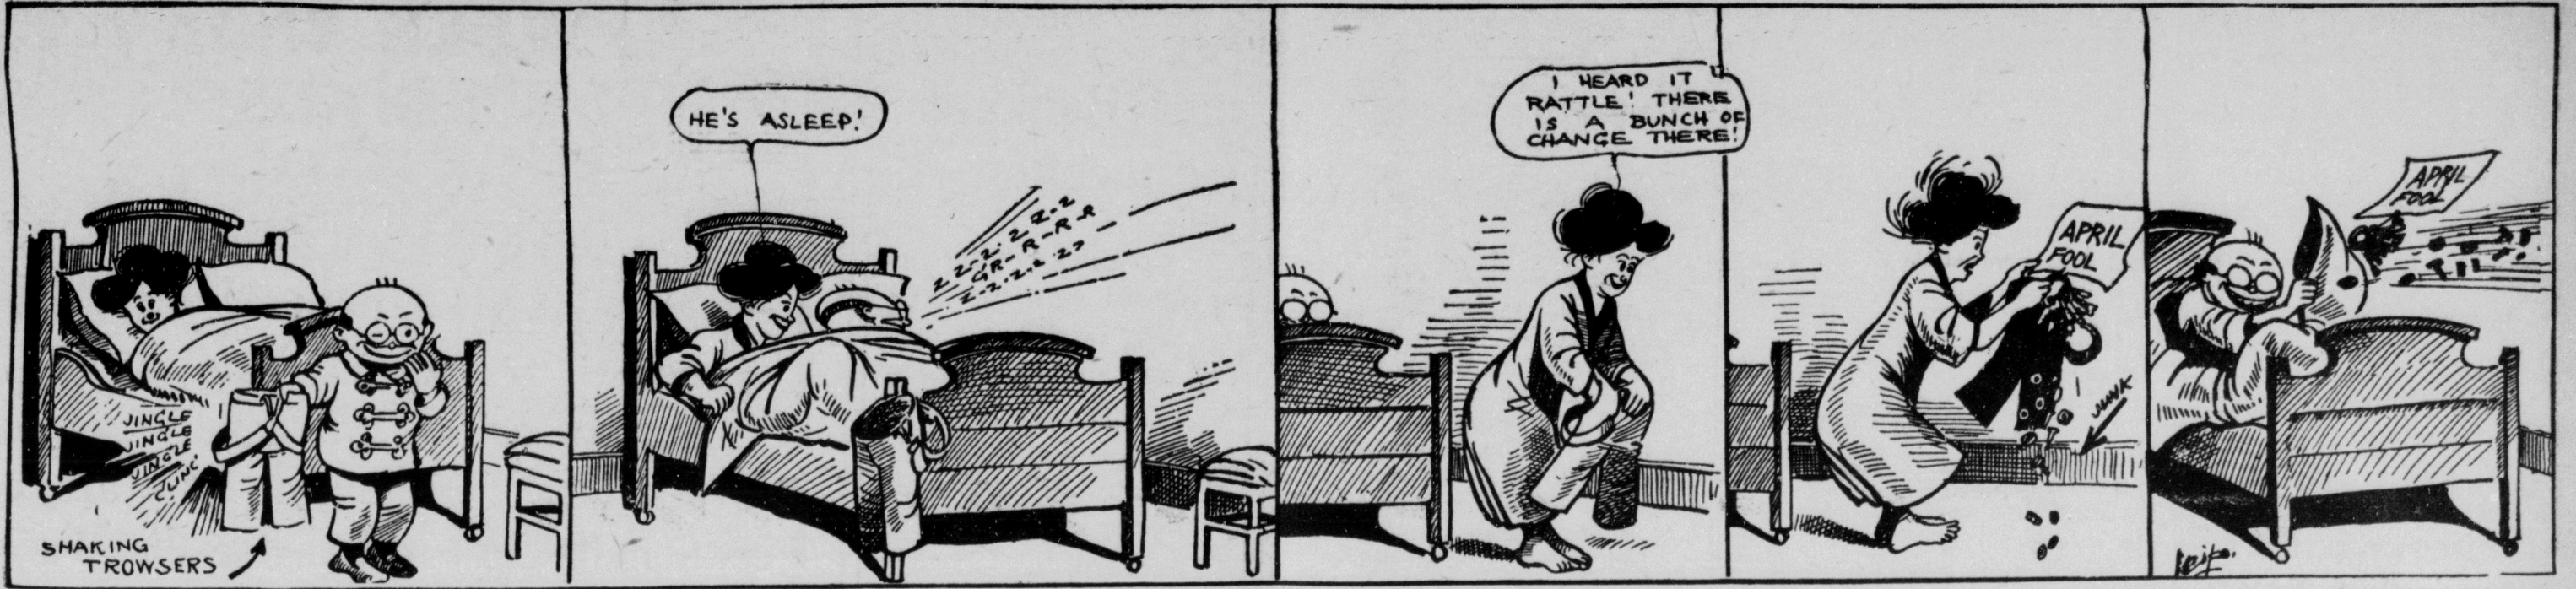

Castor oil is the only medicine that should ever be taken for constipation or stomach disorders.

His new preparation is called CAS-TOR-JELLY and is now on sale at all drug stores. It is highly recommended by physicians everywhere. On sale at H. H. Carter Drug Co., The Castor Products Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

HENRY S. LANE (con) (28)

In 1860 Henry S. Lane was nominated for governor on the republican ticket, with Oliver P. Morton as lieutenant governor. The democratic ticket was headed by Thomas A. Hendricks and David Turpie. Never were four stronger men of equal ability pitted against each other in the race for state offices. The issues were the extension of slavery and secession. The republicans were successful, and two days after the inauguration, Governor Lane was elected to the United States senate. He resigned immediately and went to Washington. In the senate he never attained any great distinction, although he served on the committee on military affairs, and later became chairman of the committee on pensions. At the expiration of his term he retired to private life in Crawfordsville. For thirty years he was a trustee of Asbury University and an active member in the Methodist church. He died June 18, 1881, and Governor Porter ordered the state offices to be draped in mourning for thirty days.

GERMANY HAS BIG VARIETY OF FOOD

So Many Different Kinds Available
as to Cause Speculation About the Blockade.

NO SERIOUS SHORTAGE THERE

Oatmeal from France, Salmon from England and Oranges from Spain on Market.

(By Carl W. Ackerman, United Press
Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, April 1.—So many unexpected supplies reach Berlin that a statement of Germany's food situation to-day is difficult.

So many different kinds of food stuffs are on the market to-day that one wonders whether the English blockade has gone out of business or whether Turkey and Bulgaria are yielding up their stores for Germany.

Whatever the cause, the result is apparent. Germany has more varieties of food on the market to-day and larger supplies than at any time during the winter. A good deal of food slips by the blockade.

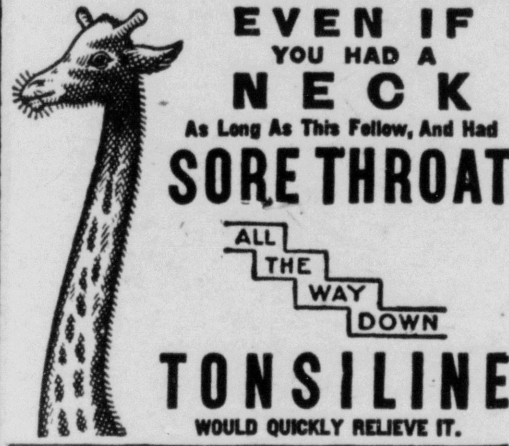

For this reason it may safely be stated that the crisis in the food situation for this winter is passed. Spring and summer with their garden vegetables and supplies will prevent any critical shortage then, unless it be in meats.

For several days there have been rumors that there would soon be four meatless days a week, but this was officially denied by the Royal Anzeiger. The butter situation still is acute but the authorities are issuing butter cards so there will be no need for the thousands to wait hours in butter lines on the three days a week when the product is sold.

During the last week I have visited all the big markets and grocery stores. These visits brought two surprises. First, the daily increase in food prices; second the great quantities of French, English, Spanish and Norwegian food stuffs on the market.

Food is increasing by leaps and bounds in price. For instance, I priced cocoa Saturday. The best Dutch brand was 1.85 marks per half pound can. On Monday it was 1.90, on Wednesday, 2 marks.

I priced oatmeal, too. A small package a week ago was 55 pfennings.

A quick, safe, soothing, healing, antiseptic relief for Sore Throat, briefly describes TONSILINE. A small bottle of Tonsiline lasts longer than most any case of Sore Throat. TONSILINE relieves Sore Mouth and Hoarseness and prevents Quinsy, 25c. and 50c. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists. THE TONSILINE COMPANY, . . . Canton, Ohio.

To-day the same amount was 85 pfennings and the best quality of oatmeal could not be purchased in most stores.

I went into several shops to get sardines. "How much?" I asked.

"Here are Norwegian sardines at 55, 65, 75, 85 pfennings a can. But here are some French sardines, the best on the market, at 2.40 for a large can."

"What," I said in astonishment, "French sardines coming in?"

"Oh, yes, we have quite a large supply. We get a great deal of foreign goods," said the grocer.

"Here are cans of Italian tomato soup and boxes of Italian spaghetti. We have English salmon, too," he added with pride and a laugh and a wink for the "English blockade."

Afterwards I went to other markets and saw great quantities of canned goods bearing French and English trade marks.

During the last few weeks there have been great quantities of oranges displayed in the markets. Most of these came from Spain. They slipped by the blockade, too.

Dates, figs and nuts are coming in in substantial quantities, mostly from Turkey.

Last Saturday from "somewhere" came large shipments of pineapples. That's the food story day in and day out. Always something new and always dearer.

Splendid for Rheumatism.

"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mrs. Dunburgh, Eldridge, N. Y. "It has been used by myself and other members of my family time and time again during the past six years and has always given the best of satisfaction." The quick relief from pain which Chamberlain's Liniment affords is alone worth many times the cost. Obtainable everywhere.

CONVENTION WILL

The convention committee on rules and permanent organization will meet in Room 1121, Hotel Severin, at 9 o'clock, Wednesday night.

The convention credentials committee will meet in Room 1021, Hotel Severin, at 9 o'clock, Wednesday night.

The state convention will open in Tomlinson hall at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Will H. Hays, state chairman, will call the convention to order, and L. W. Henley, secretary of the state committee, will read the official call for the convention. Quincy A. Myers, of Indianapolis, will then take the chair as temporary chairman, and deliver his keynote speech. Henry D. Estabrook, of New York, will follow Mr. Myers with an address. These speeches, with other preliminary work of the convention, will occupy the afternoon session.

On Thursday morning the convention will meet at 10 o'clock. The various committees will report, and the permanent organization will be effected. The platform prepared by the committee on resolutions will be read and adopted probably before noon, and this will be followed by the nomination of candidates for United States senators for the long term and the short term and for the various state offices. Owing to the fact that there are many lively contests for these nominations it is anticipated that the convention will not be able

Make Your Savings
Earn Money

The Cooperative Building and Loan Association will start Series L Monday, April 3, giving citizens of Seymour another opportunity to place their savings each week where the money will earn steady and sure dividends.

Last year the Cooperative earned over 7 per cent. for its stockholders, and every member, whether a borrower or investor shared in the earnings just in proportion to the amount of stock held.

By saving 25 cents per week for a little over six years the payments made and the earnings amount to $100.00 when the stock matures. If for any reason it is impossible to continue the payments, the stock may be withdrawn at any time and the stockholder receives all the earnings up to the time of withdrawal.

There is no safer investment. There is no better plan to have your weekly savings earn money for you. There is no easier way to secure a home or accumulate a sum of money, than by the building and loan plan.

See the Secretary Thos. J. Clark and take stock in the new Series L.

Should Not Feel Discouraged

So many people troubled with indigestion and constipation have been benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets that no one should feel discouraged who has not given them a trial. FIRE PREVENTION.

A national organization devoted to educational activities all along the line to prevent destruction of property by fires has issued some new warnings of much practical value. The inspiration for this latest publicity is the fact that fires in this country last week occasioned a total loss of $12,000,000, with an insurance loss of $8,000,000. It is therefore timely to pause and consider these warnings:

Keep waste paper, packing material and rubbish cleaned up, and remove from building at least daily. Make frequent personal inspections from a fire standpoint. Instruct and drill employees on what to do in case of fire.

Be careful about the use of matches.

Put up "No Smoking" signs, especially in hazardous sections.

Locate your nearest fire alarm box and learn how to turn in an alarm.

See that your electric wiring is standard and be careful in the use of electrical devices.

Have all smoke pipes and chimneys inspected and repaired by a competent person before starting fires for the winter.

Keep gasoline in safety cans and in a safe place.

Keep water barrels and pails filled and extinguishers charged. Use only safe floor oils and sweeping compounds.

Feel your personal responsibility for possible loss of life and property by fire and act accordingly.

DON'T put ashes in other than metal receptacles, and don't dump them where they will come in contact with combustible materials.

DON'T hang electric light cords on nails.

DON'T use wooden lockers.

Don't let the fact that you are insured make you careless.

DON'T use an open light when looking for escaping gas or in the presence of inflammable liquids.

DON'T use sawdust in spittoons or to absorb oils.

DON'T throw away lighted matches, cigars or cigarettes.

DON'T use insecticides or liquid polishes in the vicinity of open flame lights. Many such compounds contain volatile inflammable oils.

DON'T use kerosene, benzine or naphtha in lighting fires, or to quicken a slow fire—it may result in death.

DON'T use gasoline or benzine to cleanse clothing near an open flame, light or fire.

DON'T make bonfires of rubbish where the wind can scatter it. Burn it in a container.

It has been said that a politician's success depends upon his advisers. Evidently Senator Taggart has some very wise advisers. He has decided he will not make the race for the United States senate. Governor Ralston is being mentioned as probably a candidate, according to an Indianapolis paper.

LUTHERANS TOP ALL STARS IN THREE STRAIGHT GAMES

German Pin Artists in Form and Smash the Kindling Sticks in Great Shape.

The Lutheran bowling team captured three straight contests from the "All Stars" in their match last evening at the Lutheran Club. The Germans set a fast pace in their first game, rolling up a total of 873, the best mark they have ever made. The second game was close, and a margin of only 19 pins separated the two teams. Wilbur Brandt, with an average of 181, was the stellar performer for the Lutherans, while Dr. J. K. Ritter, with an average of 170, was high man for the All Stars.

Another meet between the two teams will probably be arranged for in the near future. The results of last night's games follow:

Basket Ball and Bowling Teams, Accompanied by Big Crowd of Rooters Leave on Special Car.

Accompanied by a large crowd of rooters, the basket ball and bowling teams of the Walther League of the German Lutheran church left this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock on a special interurban car for Indianapolis, where they will meet the teams of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Indianapolis. The basket ball teams will clash this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Marion Club gymnasium, while the bowling contest is scheduled for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, on the Marion Club alleys.

In the first encounter between the two leagues, held in this city a few weeks ago, the local teams won in both contests, but it is understood that the Indianapolis teams have been strengthened and are expecting to win from the Seymour men.

The line up for the basket ball game this evening will be as follows:
Indianapolis: Seymour Wellman, F. Mellencamp, F. Mussman, F. Bohencamp, F. Wampner, C. A. Breitfield, C. Mack, G. C. Brietfield, G. Wieneke, G. Hoferkamp, G.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASKET BALL TOURNEY WILL BE HELD HERE

Six Teams, Including Four Local Aggregations, Entered—Schedule May Embrace More.

Seymour is to have another basket ball tourney. This time it is to be one of the various Sunday Schools in the county. The tourney is not as yet worked out in detail and the number of teams that will enter is uncertain.

The proposed contest is scheduled for next Wednesday and Thursday and is to be played at the local high school gymnasium. At the present time there are six teams entered and another is considering the proposition. Those entered at the present time are: St. Paul, Farmington, the local eighth grade team and two teams from the Methodist church. The trophy is to be given by James Demas, the proprietor of The Sparta, and what this prize will be has as yet not been decided.

PARIS SENTENCED TO INDIANA STATE PRISON

Closing Hours of February Term of Court Among the Busiest of the Entire Session.

The closing hours of the February term of the Jackson circuit court today were among the busiest of the entire term. Henry Paris, who pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery when arraigned before Judge Swails Friday afternoon, was returned before the court today and was sentenced to serve a term of from two to fourteen years in the Indiana state prison in Michigan city. He is alleged to have forged the names of three Jackson county residents to a note for $80 upon which he secured the money. After leaving this county he went to Newcastle where he had been employed until arrested this week by Sheriff Robertson.

No trials were held today but Judge Swails acted upon many motions and other pleadings which were filed or had been pending. At the close of each term there is always a rush of business as attorneys who are interested in cases which they hope to have called for trial at the next term desire to complete the pleadings so there will be no delay. Judge Swails will go to Bedford Monday to open the March term of the Lawrence circuit court.

Backache, headache, dragging pains. Nothing relieved me until I took Peruna.

Thousands of the best women in the world are bearing the burden of backache, headache, dragging pains, a miserable half-dead, half-alive condition, produced by chronic internal derangements. Mrs. Joseph Lacelle, 124 Glenora Ave., Ottawa East, Ontario, Canada, is one of the fair women of America who has had her experience with this sort of a burden. Her experience is similar to the multitude of other women whose letters are recorded in the "Ills of Life." A copy of this free booklet ought to be in the hands of every housewife in the United States. Read what Mrs. Lacelle says:

"I suffered with backache, headache and dragging pains for over nine months, and nothing relieved me until I took Peruna. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable half-dead, half-alive condition. I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peruna, they would soon know its value and never be without it."

BABY CHICKS

How to Care For Them

BY

U. R. FISHEL, of Fishelton Farm

HOPE, INDIANA

It is hard to lay down any one set of rules of how to care for little chicks, as different locations, conditions and seasons have a great deal to do with the success of raising chicks. We give our chicks grit or fine sand as soon as they are placed in the brooder or removed from the nest. I have found that the cause of so many chicks dying is on account of unwholesome feed.

For years I have been feeding my chicks from the start on a dry mash food and must say that this MILK MASH is the Greatest Chick Saver and Chick Grower I have ever used.

After the chicks have attained the age of three weeks they can be fed from cracked wheat or toasted bread, etc., with safety, but feed them sparingly if you want your chicks to live.

Drinking water is another item to be watched in raising chicks. Water from some wells will kill chicks faster than you can hatch them. Use spring or soft water if possible.

ARE YOU GOING TO RAISE CHICKS OR JUST START THEM AND LET THEM PERISH BECAUSE OF IMPROPER FEED? If you will give them the right start they will give you a profitable finish.

Blatchford's Milk Mash is a Dry Milk Equal.

Just the thing for their tender digestive organs because it is made especially for them. It is an unsurpassed growing food for chicks. After they are two months old, mix with corn meal. For fattening add as high as fifty per cent corn meal.

BOWEL TROUBLE CANNOT EXIST WITH YOUR CHICKS WHEN YOU FEED BLATCHFORD'S MILK MASH.

The equal to milk. Puts the lively scratch into each little leg; keeps diarrhoea—away from your chicks and the worry away from you. Do you wonder that chicks grow rapidly and profitably?

It is the simplest nourishment that does it. Costs less to feed than any chick feed because there is so little death loss.

BREEDING STOCK IS IMPORTANT

Poor Selection by Chicken Raisers Often Responsible for Discouragement at End of the Season.

HEALTHY BIRDS NECESSARY

Care Should Also Be Exercised to Get Males of Right Weight and Pullets That Are Fully Matured.

(By Mrs. Mae Price, R. 4 Indianapolis, of Sundown Poultry Farm.)

Why so many become discouraged at the end of the season is no surprise when you see some of the breeding stock used to produce the eggs for hatching chicks. What we consider most important, when we mate the pens, is health and size.

The male is very important, for he is considered half the breeding pen. Select a male who has never been sick; one of good size and who has a healthy look about the head, good bright eyes and a red face and comb. Weigh him, and if he is a pound short weight do not use him—if you have one that is the proper weight and not so good in shape.

Now for the females. Select good size birds. One and two-year old hens are best. Get good, healthy active birds with good healthy heads, red faces and red combs. Do not use one that has been sick, even if she looks all right. Select fifteen of small breeds to mate to the male or ten of the large breeds to mate with one male. We like to mate cockerels to hens and the cock birds to the pullets. We use pullets that started to lay in the fall and are fully matured and laying large eggs. Pullets that have not fully matured should not be used for breeding purposes. Chicks matched from immature pullets or cockerels will be small and grow very slowly—they will never come up to the standard in weight. Good, healthy birds are a pleasure to work with and will produce eggs, if properly incubated, that will produce chicks which will be a pleasure as well as a profit.

After mating our pens we do not begin to save the eggs until after the tenth day and it is better to wait fourteen days to insure good fertility. Before selecting your brooders, clean your henhouse thoroughly and as you select the birds, dust each one carefully with a good louse powder to rid "biddy" of lice. Lice are not pleasant things for the hens to have and they will not do their best if they are allowed to be covered with lice. It will only take a short time to do the work and they will pay you for your trouble by laying more eggs. Plenty of oyster shell and grit is necessary to have good, strong fertility. What is better to feed than corn or scratch feed? But corn alone is not the best feed for breeders.

If you buy a male from another breeder do not wait until you are ready for him, but send for him in time for him to become accustomed to his new quarters and get acquainted. After the pens are mated we have at least ten days or two weeks, or perhaps three weeks, before we can start our hatching. We have this time to look after our incubator, clean it thoroughly—a new burner may be needed or the one we have may need to be boiled out in a little lye water—then the thermometer may need testing or a new one purchased. Also a new wick is needed. The trays should be thoroughly scrubbed with a good disinfectant and perhaps a new burlap put on the diaphragm. We always start our incubators and test them to see that they are in first class order before ready for use.

Perhaps it will be "biddy" who will hatch the eggs. Then "biddy" should be carefully moved to a nice, clean box with plenty of straw for a good nest and she should be carefully dusted for lice and allowed to set a few days before putting good eggs under her. The boxes should be in a good warm place, out of drafts. Always feed and water her once a day all she will eat and drink. She needs a box of earth for a dust bath each day and after that "biddy" will need a nice, large, roomy coop for her home with her babies. Give her a good-sized box with a good roof that will not let her get wet and she will take good care of the chicks to repay you for your trouble.

Perhaps you will have to repair the brooder. Some new windows may be needed or a door put on hinges, perhaps the lamps needs thorough cleaning and if the brooder has no thermometer buy one, for there is nothing that spoils a bunch of chicks so quickly as uneven heat. If your brooder permits fumes or smoke to get to the chicks, remedy it or buy a new one. The chicks will never do well if the brooder is not right. The women sometimes say that they cannot get their husbands to fix these little things and the husbands say that they cannot get their wives interested. If all of these things are given proper attention, when your hatch comes off, you will both be greatly interested.

It is not so hard to get the hatching done, but it is a different thing to raise the chickens. So many hatch more chicks than they can care for and two-thirds of the chicks die of over-crowding or neglect. I think it would be far better to hatch less and raise more. This is my twelfth year and I usually help raise from 1,500 to 2,000 chicks each year. Last year we were very successful. We only hatched a few over 1,000 and raised over 900. We attribute a portion of our success to our careful selection of our breeders.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED ON BRANCH ROAD

B. & O. S-W. Officials Inspect Line to Bedford with View of Deciding on Changes.

Extensive improvements are to be made on the Bedford Branch of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, according to the Bedford Mail, which says:

That the B. & O. S-W. officials intend to make the Bedford branch of their road one that the city will much appreciate and the traveling public in general who go in and out over the branch, became known this morning from the following steps taken and the immediate beginning of the work necessary to that end.

W. R. Gardner, of Seymour, the new section foreman in company with Superintendent Scheer, Division Engineer Gibson, Supervisor T. Roland came to Bedford Tuesday over the Southeastern from Seymour and together walked the branch line from Bedford to Riverview making a close inspection of the existing conditions, and set the "stakes" for immediate great improvements of the branch.

To begin with Track Foreman Gardner was ordered to add ten more men to his crew which gives him a force of fifteen men all working this morning. The entire roadbed will be put in the best shape ever, that skilled trackmen can accomplish and the improvements to be made will require nearly a summer's work of many men.

The concrete workmen came out over the branch this morning and are looking after the rebuilding of all wooden trestles that will be rebuilt of concrete. In addition to the above officials who came here Tuesday, B. & O. Patrolmen Barkley and Chess, came down today on business in their line of duty.

whether or not other petitions will be filed. The issue involved in the case is vital to the future road improvements in the county and state. Should the remonstrators win the case on appeal the decision would virtually mean that hereafter such improvements could only be ordered by the commissioners after the majority of the voters in any township had voted in favor of them.

The petitioners for the three highways in this township are anxious to have a settlement in the case. They say that the roads described in the petitions are in a deplorable condition and that it would be ill advised to spend any considerable money in improving them if they are to be rebuilt soon. They asked, however, that the supreme court give an early decision so that the bids can be advertised for and the work started immediately if the decision is favorable.

The council commissioners will meet Monday and will consider several other road petitions which have been filed since the last session. The sentiment in favor of hard surface highways in the rural districts is growing throughout the county and several petitions are pending. One is for a half mile of concrete beginning at the Bell's Ford Bridge through the bottoms towards Cortland. This petition also includes an improvement of crushed stone or gravel on the rest of the road to the town of Cortland. Viewers will be appointed at the meeting of the commissioners.

Several other petitions are pending and it is thought that others will be filed shortly.

CHAPTER XII. The Red Letter "B."

At the Gare St. Lazare Robin had a brief glimpse of Miss Guile as she hurried with the crowd down to the cab enclosure, where her escort, the alert young stranger, put her into a waiting limousine, bundled Mrs. Gaston and Marie after her and then dashed away, obviously to see their luggage through the douane.

She espied the tall figure of her fellow voyager near the steps and leaned forward to wave a perfunctory farewell to him. The car was creeping out toward the packed thoroughfare. He remained perfectly still, with uplifted hat, a faint smile on his lips and not the slightest sign of annoyance in his face. She smiled securely to herself as she leaned back in the seat and was satisfied!

Count Quinnox found him standing there a few minutes later, twirling his stick and smiling with his eyes. Accompanying the old soldier was a slight, sharp featured man with keen black eyes and a thin, pointed mustache of gray.

This man was Gourou, chief of police and commander of the tower in Edelweis, successor to the celebrated Baron Dangloss. After he had greeted his prince the quiet little man announced that he had reserved for him an apartment at the Bristol.

"I am instructed by the prime minister, your highness, to urge your immediate return to Edelweis," he went on, lowering his voice. "The people are disturbed by the reports that have reached us during the past week or two, and Baron Romano is convinced that nothing will serve to subdue the feeling of uneasiness that prevails except your own declaration—in person—that these reports are untrue."

"I shall telegraph at once to Baron Romano that it is all poppycock," said Robin easily. "I refer, of course, to the reported engagement. I am not going to marry Miss Blithers, and that's all there is to be said. You may see to it, baron, that a statement is issued to all of the Paris newspapers today and to the correspondents of all the great papers in Europe and America. I have prepared this statement, under my own signature, and it is to be the last word in the matter. You shall have it when we reach the hotel—and that reminds me of another thing. I'm sorry that I shall have to ask you to countermand the reservation for rooms at the hotel you mention. I have already reserved rooms at the Ritz—by wireless. We shall stop there. Where is Dank?"

"The Ritz is hardly the place for"—But Robin clapped him on the back and favored him with the good natured, boyish smile that mastered even the fiercest of his counselors, and the minister of police, being an astute man, heaved a deep sigh of resignation.

Count Quinnox was gnawing his mustache. "See here, Robin," he said, laying his hand on the young man's shoulder, "you are in Paris now, and not on board a ship at sea. Miss Guile is a beautiful, charming, highly estimable young woman, and, I might as well say it straight out to your face, you ought not to subject her to the notoriety that is bound to follow if the newspapers learn that she is playing around Paris, no matter how innocently, with a prince whom"—

"Just a moment, count," interrupted Robin, a cold light in his now unsmiling eyes. "You are getting a little ahead of the game. Miss Guile is not going to the Ritz, nor do I expect her to play around Paris with me. As a matter of fact, she refused to tell me where she is to stop while here, and I am uncomfortably certain that I shall not see her unless by chance. You may be sure that I shall not annoy Miss Guile, and you may be equally sure that she"—

"I beg your pardon, Robin, but I did not employ the word annoy," protested the count.

"—that she takes me for a gentleman if not for a prince," went on Robin, deliberately completing the sentence before he smiled his forgiveness upon the old man. "I selected the Ritz because all rich Americans go there, I'm told. I'm taking a chance."

"Robin, my lad, I beg of you to consider the consequences that"—"There's no use discussing it, old friend. Trust to luck. There is a bully good chance that she will send me about my business when the time comes, and then the salvation of Graustark will be assured." He said it lightly, but there was a dark look in his eyes that belied the jaunty words.

"Am I to understand that you intend to—to ask her to marry you?" demanded the count, profoundly troubled. "Remember, boy, that you are the Prince of Graustark, that you"—

"But I am not going to ask her to marry the Prince of Graustark. I'm going to ask her to marry R. Schmidt," said Robin composedly. In the baron's room at the Ritz that night there was held a secret conference.

The three conspirators were of the same mind. It was clear that something must be done. But what? That was the question. Gourou declared that the people were very much disturbed over the trick the great capitalist had played upon the cabinet; there were sullen threats of a revolt if the government insisted on the deposit of bonds as required by the agreement. More than that, there were open declarations that the daughter of Mr. Blithers would never be permitted to occupy the throne of Graustark. Deeply as his subjects loved the young prince, they would force him to abdicate rather than submit to the desecration of a throne that had never been dishonored. They would accept William W. Blithers' money, but they would have none of William W. Blithers' daughter.

The afternoon papers had published the brief statement prepared by Robin in the seclusion of his stateroom on board the Jupiter immediately after a most enjoyable hour with Miss Guile. It was a curt and extremely positive denial of the rumored engagement, with the additional information that he never had seen Miss Blithers and was more or less certain that she had never set eyes on him.

A rather staggering coincidence appeared with the published report that Miss Blithers herself was supposed to be somewhere in Europe, word having been received that day from sources in London that she had sailed from New York under an assumed name. The imaginative French journals put two and two together and dwelt upon the possibility that the two young people who had never seen each other might have crossed the Atlantic on the same steamer, seeing each other frequently and yet remaining entirely in the dark, so to speak. Inspired writers began to weave a romance around them.

The newspapers also printed a definite bit of news in the shape of a dispatch from New York to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. William W. Blithers were sailing for Europe on the ensuing day, bound for Graustark. However, the chief and present concern of the three loyal gentlemen in midnight conclave was not centered in the trouble that Mr. Blithers had started, but in the more desperate situation created by Miss Guile. She was the peril that now confronted them, and she was indeed a peril.

"By jove!" exclaimed Dank, so loudly that his companions actually jumped in their seats. "What ails you, Dank?" demanded the baron, removing his eyes from the young man's face long enough to glance fearfully at the transom.

"I've—I've got it!" cried the soldier. Count, you remember the big red letter B on all of her trunks, don't you? Hobbs is positive he"—

Lesson 1

CONVERSION OF SAUL. Acts 9:1-11.

Golden Text:—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.—1 Tim. 1:15.

The first two verses of our lesson chapter describe Saul going on in the same spirit as when he consented to the murder of Stephen and kept the raiment of those who stoned him. He is still breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord (what a horribly bad breath from the pit, and he is indorsed by Israel's high priest, who was professedly God's high priest. The account of his zeal for the devil is written in five different places—in our lesson chapter and in Acts xxii, xxvi; Gal. 1 and 1 Tim. I. He confessed that he was a blasphemer and a persecutor; that he was exceedingly mad against the saints, beyond measure persecuting the church of God, shutting up men and women in prison and giving his voice against them when they were put to death and all the time thought that he was right in thus opposing the teaching and the followers of Jesus of Nazareth. He was, as he afterward said, blinded by the god of this world and ignorant of his devices, and it was an exceeding abundant grace that had mercy on him and saved him (11 Cor. ii, 11; iv, 4).

The day came when he reached the limit, and God's clock struck its "no further" (Job xxxviii, 11). He was not at a preaching service nor under any so called means of grace, but on his way to imprison and kill more saints and nearing his destination, many in Damascus trembling if they knew of his coming, when suddenly, about noon, he fell to the earth because of a light from heaven above the brightness of the sun which shone upon him, and he heard a voice saying to him in the Hebrew language, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" The people who were with him saw the light, but did not hear the words. He not only saw and felt the light and heard the words, but he saw the Lord Jesus (verse 17), who thus condescended to appear to him personally, as He will to the nation at His coming in glory, for it is written, "They shall look upon me whom they have pierced," and they shall say, "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for Him, and He will save us" (Zech. xii, 10; Rev. i, 7; Isa. xlv, 9).

To Saul's question, "Who art Thou, Lord?" the answer came, "I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest." What an illustration of the assurance that believers are members of His body and that to touch one of His is as touching the apple of His eye! (Eph. v, 30; Zech. ii, 8.) Although Saul's natural eyes were blinded by this great light and he remained three days without sight, he received sight such as he never had before, the eyes of his understanding being enlightened, for the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ had shone in (Eph. i, 18; II Cor. iv, 6). From that hour he was born from above, a child of God, a sinner saved, a rebel surrendered, wholly submitted to Jesus Christ risen from the dead and ascended to heaven. The glory of that light from heaven made him for ever blind to all human greatness or righteousness, and now to him to live was Christ (Acts xxii, 11; Phil. i, 21).

With trembling and astonishment he submissively said, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" And thenceforth he was the bondservant of the Lord Jesus Christ. What his communings were those three days without sight or food or drink, and where he went to in Arabia, and his experiences there for three years (Acts ix, 9; Gal. i, 15-19) we may perhaps learn from his own lips some day, but this we may be sure of—there was no one worth while to him but Jesus Christ. How wonderful are the words of the Lord to Ananias concerning him, "He is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name,  for I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake" (verses 15, 16). Compare chapter xxii, 14-16; xxvi, 16-18, and get a better grasp of his full commission.

Take to your own hearts, O fellow believer, that these things were written for us and that we, too, may be vessels unto honor, sanctified and meet for the Master's use, prepared unto every good work (II Tim. ii, 21). The Lord had shown Saul, in a vision, during his blindness, a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him that he might receive his sight (verse 12), and Ananias in person literally fulfilled it, putting his hands on him and saying, "Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me that thou mightest receive thy sight and be filled with the Holy Ghost." At once he received sight, something like scales falling from his eyes. He arose and was baptized, received meat and was strengthened and preached Christ in the synagogues; He is the Son of God (verses 17-20). He soon began to realize something of the persecution he had made others feel. But perhaps one of the sorest trials was when the disciples at Jerusalem refused to believe that he was a disciple until Barnabas, true son of consolation, persuaded them that he was truly a disciple and had been preaching boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

COMPARE THESE FIGURES.

Why is prohibition sentiment making such rapid strides in Ohio? Here are some facts that may partly answer the question:

The 45 dry Ohio counties sent to the State Industrial school, during the year, 76 boys. The 43 wet counties, entitled by population to send 228, sent 260.

The 45 dry counties sent to the penitentiary 106. The 43 wet counties, entitled by population to send 318, sent 603.

The 45 dry counties sent to the reformatory 83. The 43 wet counties, entitled by population to send 249, sent 582.

The 45 dry counties sentenced to workhouses 118. The 43 wet counties, entitled by population to send 354, sent 967.

The 45 dry counties sentenced to jail imprisonment 497. The 43 wet counties, entitled by population to send 1,491, sent 2,646 (with Cleveland not reported to add to the wet side).

The 45 dry counties expended for maintenance of jail prisoners $21,316.06. The 43 wet counties, entitled by population to $63,948.18, spent $139,750 (with Lucas and Clark counties and the cities of Toledo and Springfield not reported to add to the wet side).

Cost of jail prisoners in 45 dry counties, one year, $21,316.06. Cost in one wet county alone (Hamilton), with only one-third as many people, $21,037.90.

LIQUOR MEN'S ARGUMENT.

Replying to the paid orators of the saloon who declare that if it was not intended that men should drink alcoholic liquor God would not have created the rye, the corn, etc., from which it is manufactured, the American Issue says: "They might declare that if God had not intended men to drink booze, he would not have created the wood that builds the saloon, the brass in the fixtures, the quartz melted into the goblet or the iron which, molten, makes the stove. They might carry the argument farther and say that if God had not intended men to drink alcohol that he would not have created the mouth with which to imbibe. Until it can be shown that God created a man's tongue so that he could lie and hands that he might steal, there is not very much in the argument that the Creator made corn and rye that men might make alcohol therefrom for the purpose of poisoning themselves and their fellowmen for profit."

COMING OR GOING.

"The moderate drinker is either coming or going. He is coming back toward the morn of sobriety, or he is going on toward drunkenness."

ASKING TOO MUCH.

"I belonged to the Good Fellows' club until a little while ago, and I left it—not for any moral reason, but for a cold-blooded reason. I thought Mr. Barleycorn was asking just a little too much for liquor. In addition to the price that he and I agreed upon, he asked for my country—my government, local, state and national. He demanded a mountain range of blasted homes; 50,000 boys and girls as driftwood in his River of Death; the eyesight of babies and the peace of old age.

"Barefoot soldiers gave us independence, but barefoot children do not have to give us revenue! In this fight you do not have to die. All you have to do is to make a modest investment in human progress and in the Kingdom of God."—Ex-Congressman Landis of Indiana.

RESPECT FOR MINISTER.

A saloonkeeper offered a young minister $40 to help pay a church debt. The money was needed very badly, but the minister replied: "Before I accept that contribution I must let you know my attitude toward your business. As long as I am a minister in this town I shall fight your business as hard as I know how. I shall tell the young men and boys what you will do to them, and if I get a chance when election time comes I shall vote to put you out of business." The saloonkeeper thrust the money toward the minister and said: "Take it; I wouldn't have any respect for you if you didn't do those very things."

TEMPTING FUTURE SOLDIERS.

In Britain 4,000,000 men have applied for service. One million have been rejected. If peace standards were being applied 3,000,000 would have been rejected. Commenting upon this, Dr. C. W. Saleeby, the eugenicist, says: "We tempted the future soldiers with drink at sixteen. This million of rejected men were once younger." He also says: "No instructed German would deny the fact that his own country's figures are worse."

DEAD SURE TO LOSE.

"There are two things that are hurrying national prohibition," said a brewery agent to a W. C. T. U. woman—"first, the great new efficiency basis in the industrial world (men of capital and men of the laboring class have come to see that John Barleycorn does not pay in dollars and cents); and second, the enfranchisement of the women of the United States. If the big corporations do not put us out of business before long, the woman's ballot will lead sure."

LIQUOR ADS BARRED.

About one-fourth of all the dailies in the country take no liquor ads.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND THE WAR.

THERE are tens of thousands of earnest, professed Christians in the trenches of Europe today. The demands of governments have been met by the leading Christian workers of the countries involved in this war. The church, the Y. M. C. A., the Bible societies, in fact every organization, is seeking to meet the extraordinary situation which now exists.

Evangelism is being aggressively carried on and the field force of the Young Men's Christian Association, to the best of its resources, is taking advantage of this opportunity to minister to the bodily and spiritual needs of the armies of Europe. Sunday school work such as we know in America is not known in Europe, for they do not have such prominent men identified with the work, especially on the continent, nor has the adult division work made any great headway. Therefore this movement, as such, in Europe, is not making much of an impression in this world crisis.

It has remained for American Sunday school leaders to make a definite contribution. This has taken the form of a move to furnish every soldier in the trenches with a copy of the New Testament. Some leading American Christian business men have so underwritten this work as to allow every cent contributed actually to be expended on the field. In other words a million nickels collected from the Sunday school scholars of America delivered one million pocket testaments among the soldiers of Europe.

The war has affected the world's Sunday school work so much so that the work in South America and in Moslem lands is now being entirely supported and directed by the American workers. Mr. Frank L. Brown of New York, the head. The Tokyo World's convention of October, 1916, has also been delayed until a proper time after the war has closed.

CENTENNIAL PLANS TO BE CONSIDERED

Commercial Club to Name Committee to Take Charge of Celebration at Meeting to be Held April 10.

OTHER MATTERS TO COME UP

Efforts to be Made to Have Every Member and Every Prospective Member Present.

At the luncheon of the officers and directors of the Commercial Club yesterday, preliminary arrangements were made for the smoker and social meeting of the club to be held Monday evening, April 10. E. W. Scheer, Superintendent of the B. & O. S-W., who is one of the directors of the club, has very kindly donated the assembly room of the B. & O. building for the meeting. Invitations will be sent to every member of the club and also to prospective members, and all indications point to a big meeting. Prominent among the matters to be considered at the meeting will be the centennial celebration to be held next fall, and Prof. T. A. Mott, county centennial chairman and R. A. Cox, township chairman, and others interested in the centennial movement, will address the club, giving outlines of what has already been done by their organization and suggestions for the Seymour observation of the event.

The Commercial Club's part in the centennial movement will be turned over to the celebration committee, of which W. L. Johnson is chairman. President Kaufman is busy going over the list of members selecting the men for the committees, and Mr. Johnson will be given a good bunch of workers on his committee. As the celebration is expected to eclipse anything ever undertaken in Seymour, a vast amount of work is in store for this committee.

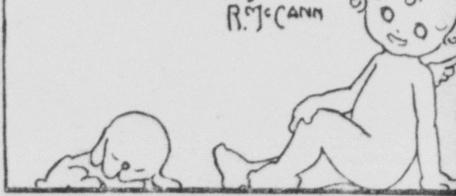

Mr. Kaufman has six other committees to name, as follows: Membership; Publicity; Municipal Affairs; Civic Betterment; Good Streets and Roads; New Industries. According to the constitution of the club the directors shall act as chairmen of the various committees.

With the appointment of the different committees, the work of the Commercial Club will begin to assume definite form. The committees will be expected to meet regularly, and to actively take up the work that falls to their body.

There will be several other matters of importance to come before the club, and all members are urgently requested to be present, while all business and professional men and residents who are not members, and who wish to get in on this movement for a better and bigger Seymour, are cordially invited to attend, fill out a membership card and help the good work along.

Dear Friends:—Have you ever played basketball? If you have, you know just how I enjoy it and if you haven't you don't know what you're missing. You know our school has a dandy gymnasium and every other day the teacher allows us to play basketball and take other exercises there. We have lots of fun and I only wish that some of you could be with us sometimes. Has your school a gymnasium? If not you girls and boys ought to get after them to put one in.

I wonder how you're doing in Sewing Society work. Everyone I've heard from lately gives a fine report and nothing should make us happier than to know that we're doing lots of good for the poor. However if you should be one that hasn't sent for a Certificate of Membership now is the time to do so. Just address me care this paper, enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be very glad to send you one. If you have your Certificate write me any good news you know of. Lovingly,

BEFORE PLAYING THE GAME PASTE THIS ENTIRE SECTION ON HEAVY CARDBOARD- NOW THE FIRST PLAYER PLACES A SMALL BUTTON ON THE PITCHER'S HAND- THIS REPRESENTS THE BALL- ALSO PUT A BUTTON ON 'HOME PLATE'- THIS IS THE BATTER- THE PLAYER THEN THUMPS THE "BALL" ON THE PITCHER'S HAND TOWARDS THE BATTING FIGURE AND IF THE "BALL" HITS THE BAT, THE PLAYER MAKES A HIT AND MOVES THE "BATTER BUTTON" TO FIRST BASE- IN THIS CASE THE PLAYER TAKES ANOTHER THUMP- IF HE AGAIN HITS THE BAT HE MOVES TO 2ND BASE, AND SO ON UNTIL HE REACHES 'HOME'- AGAIN- THE PLAYER FIRST MAKING 'HOME' IN FOUR SUCCESSIVE THUMPS WINS THE GAME.
